The Saturday Evening Post of recent date contains an article on "The up-to-date play" in which the writer states the following wholesome facts: "The educational usefulness of the play is recognized to day as never before. Its opponents on religious or moral grounds, erstwhile so numerous and formidable, are reduced to a small and hopeless minority. As a means of amusement, pure and simple, it has steadily grown in popularity, and, in response to the efforts managers are making to offer better things and more of them, an enlightened public is showing a disposition to spend money with unprecedented freedom on a form of entertainment which appeals more strongly than any other to both the mind and the heart of the every day man and woman."
The East Jordan Creamery is turning out some first-class butter these days and Kemper Bros., of Chicago, to whom the principle portion of their produce is shipped, attest to its merits in a letter sent to Mr. Pfender, and containing the following: "This was a nice lot of butter and we hope that you will continue to make it as nice in the future as we will have ready sale for it. We were disappointed in not receiving shipment this week as some of the customers that had this butter wanted more of it, and when they came for it the past few days, we had to disappoint them. We were expecting that you would ship regularly each week, at least one shipment, if not two. Let us know if you will have a shipment ready for us the first of next week. Yours truly, Kemper Bros."

Political parties, which are an absolute necessity in a republican form of government, can only be operated through political machinery. There must be organization, which is the machine, or there will be anarchy, which is the antithesis of government. The cry of "Machine! Machine!" is largely a cry to prejudice the unthinking voter, and the politician who cries the loudest is usually one who belongs to an opposition machine.

The East Jordan Creamery, J. J. Pfender, prop'r, will this Saturday close down until Spring and no cream will be received after that date until same re-opens.
